MENTORSHIP & CAREER GROWTH

Kalunda is a highly respected leader in the accounting and finance profession. She is known for her dedication to excellence, her commitment to diversity and inclusion, and her passion for mentoring young professionals. I am a strong proponent of Mentorship as it provides invaluable insights, expands network and accelerates career growth in ways never imagined.

My take on Career Growth is that one must have strategies for success. This is because the path to career growth is not always straightforward. My own journey is proof of that from Home Science to accounting—it has been anything but a straight line. Success comes from staying intentional and never settling into a comfort zone. Dwight Eisenhower once said Plans are nothing, Planning is everything. Plans may change, but the process of planning shapes your vision and keeps you agile.

My educational journey, from earning a B.Ed in Home Science to completing a PhD, was pivotal, but there were specific turning points—earning my CPA qualification and that unforgettable interview at the US Embassy—that set me on a trajectory of growth. These were moments of transformation, but they were also driven by the people around me who saw potential I hadn't fully recognized in myself.

Growth also comes from building strong relationships. Networking has been crucial in my journey. I've been fortunate to connect with colleagues and industry professionals who helped shape my path.

Mentorship is equally important; finding experienced mentors who provide guidance can be the key to overcoming both personal and professional challenges.

THE FUTURE OF ACCOUNTANCY

SLEEK EDITION

The future of accountancy in Kenya is bright. The profession is evolving rapidly and accountants need to be prepared to adapt to the changing landscape.

The rise of technology is one of the biggest drivers of change in the accounting profession. Accountants need to be comfortable using new technologies, such as artificial intelligence (AI) and blockchain to perform their jobs more efficiently and effectively.

The globalization of the economy is creating new opportunities for accountants. Kenyan accountants are increasingly in demand in other countries, and that the profession is becoming more internationalized.

ICPAK is working to ensure that Kenyan accountants are prepared for the future. The institute is offering a number of new courses and programs to help accountants develop the skills they need to succeed in the 21st century.

To succeed in today's dynamic business environment, multi-skilling is no longer a luxury for accountants; it's a necessity.

I am optimistic about the future of the accounting profession in Kenya. The profession is strong and resilient, and Kenyan accountants have the skills and talent to thrive in the global economy.

DEDICATED TO SERVE

As the Vice Chair of ICPAK, my dedication to service is rooted in the belief that accountants have a unique responsibility to contribute to the development of our nation. We are entrusted with the financial stewardship of businesses, organizations, and individuals, and we have a critical role to play in ensuring that our economy is sustainable and equitable.

Through my work at ICPAK, I am committed to promoting excellence in the accounting profession, building capacity among our members, and advocating for policies that support the growth of the Kenyan economy. I believe that by working together, we can create a brighter future for all Kenyans.

I am proud to be a part of the accounting profession, and I am committed to serving my profession to the best of my abilities.

“The best way to find yourself is to lose yourself in the service of others.”

JOINING ICPAK COUNCIL

My desire to serve the accounting profession and contribute to its positive impact on society motivated me to seek a place on the ICPAK Council. My 'SLEEK' agenda, with its strong emphasis on knowledge and innovation, reflects my belief that by fostering a culture of learning and embracing new ideas, we can elevate the profession and better serve the needs of all our stakeholders.

I was elected as a Council Member of ICPAK in June, 2019 and re-elected unopposed in June 2022 for another term of 3 years.

During the 100th Special Council meeting on October 18, 2023 I was elected as the Vice-Chairman of ICPAK and re-elected for a second term in 2024 June.

I urge all those with a passion for service and a desire to make a difference to consider running for leadership positions at ICPAK and other bodies at both county and national levels. Let us collectively elevate the accounting profession and contribute to the nation's progress through dedicated

18th October 2023

CPA PROF. ELIZABETH KALUNDA-MUVUI ELECTED AS ICPAK VICE CHAIRMAN

This is to inform you that the Council, during its 100th Special Council meeting held today, on 18th October 2023, elected CPA Prof. Elizabeth Kalunda as the Vice Chairman for the period October 2023 to June 2024.

CPA Prof. Kalunda has extensive experience in both academia and industry in the fields of accounting and finance. She is a Certified Public Accountant of Kenya and a member of the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya (ICPAK). She is an Associate Professor at the Chandaria School of Business, United States International University-Africa.

At the Institute, she has served as a council member. Her journey on the Council has been marked by active engagement in diverse committees where she has played pivotal roles. Her accomplishments include convening the Devolution Work Stream Sub-Committee, Research and Development Committee and serving as a dedicated member of committees such as Special Events, Adhoc Human Resource and Public Policy and Governance. Her steadfast commitment to the Research and Development Committee culminated in successfully launching the Institute's inaugural Research Conference in 2020, now an annual event.

Previously, she worked at the Dedan Kimathi University of Technology, the Government Training Institute, and the Teachers Service Commission.

CPA Prof. Kalunda holds a B.Ed from Moi University, an MBA and a PhD from the University of Nairobi. Additionally, she is a Certified Public Mediator (CPM).

CPA Prof. Kalunda exerts influence on several boards, including Lofty Corban Investments Limited, Kasneb, and the Nairobi County Audit Committee. Her involvement as a board member of Kasarani Technical and Vocational Centre, Bishop Ndingi High School in Machakos and St. Teresa's Girls Mwala, underscores her dedication to education and community development. She also maintains an active membership with the Association of Women Accountants of Kenya (AWAK).

Please join us in congratulating CPA Prof. Elizabeth Kalunda on her new position as the ICPAK Vice Chairman.

SLEEK AGENDA

ICPAK 2019 COUNCIL MEMBER

My Suitability for the Position of Council Member

● Service Delivery to Members

Interacting with members during my tenure at ICPAK gave me rich first-hand experience of members' needs and aspirations enabling me to serve them better as a council member. Some of the contributions I made to the profession include; introduction of online CPD events, e-certificates of attendance, timely uploading of training materials and sourcing of high caliber national and international speakers. As the Coordinator of the IDF, World Bank Project I oversaw its smooth running from inception to a successful advanced level.

● Leadership Skills

I have over time honed my leadership skills through board membership at the Nairobi City County Audit Committee, three educational institutions, IRB and Vice Chair Faculty Council of USIU-A, which has prepared me for this noble leadership role of service to my profession.

● Empowerment of Women and Young Accountants

As faculty at USIU-A, YALI mentor and AWAK member, I understand the benefits of mentoring and empowering women and youth, thus grounding me for effective realization of my agenda in the council.

● Knowledge Creation through Research

As a member of the RDC of ICPAK we have worked on knowledge generation which has contributed greatly to the voice of accountants nationally and globally. This has given the profession greater visibility and recognition. Among the researches and proposals I was involved in were: Impact of Mobile Money Transfers on Businesses in Kenya; The Future of Accountancy in Kenya-Drivers of change and future skills in Kenya; and Sustainability Reporting - The Impetus for Development.
